GENERAL CHAIRMAN OF the coming Snow Weekend, Mike Becker, compares notes with his three area chairmen, Lora Froelich, Bill Dietz and Betty Kalkwarf.

Snow Weekend Shaping Up

Theme for this year's Snow Weekend, which will be held March 1 and 2, will be "Fantasyland in Snow," according to sophomore Mike Becker, general chairman of the event.

Activities will begin Thursday and Friday night with a stage show presented jointly with the Concert Band. Chairman of the variety show is Lora Froehlich, sophomore. On Friday evening the king and queen will be crowned outdoors before the performance.

FRIDAY AND Saturday afternoons will feature the conference wrestling tournament.

Saturday evening the Wartburg-Luther basketball game will be held. After the game there will be a dance in the gym, featuring the "Knightbeats," led by Ken Schneider, junior. Sophomore Betty Kalkwarf is chairman of the dance.

It will be informal with slacks, ski sweaters or winter bermudas for both guys and gals.

ANOTHER important phase of the weekend will include the snow sculpturing. Bill Deitz, senior, will direct this event.

Snow sculptures will be judged on Saturday, and the traveling trophies will be awarded at the dance. Sculptures are to carry out the theme for the weekend.

Selection of royalty has been changed this year. A king and queen will be selected by ballot in convo. They will be from the junior or senior class.

LUTHER STUDENTS will be invited to take part in the weekend's activities, including the variety show and dance.

Queens from other conference schools will be invited to Saturday evening's events. They will be presented at the dance.

Winner of the theme contest was sophomore Jan Howard. Miss Howard will receive a free weekend pass for two to the festivities as the prize for her entry.

ACCORDING TO Becker, most of these plans are still tentative. Final information will be published later.

"I would like to see parents, boy friends, girl friends and anybody interested in Wartburg invited for the weekend. It will be a very busy and fun-filled vacation from school work," said Becker.

Pro Musica Is Feature Of Series

By Evan Bartelt

The New York Pro Musica will be featured at Wartburg's next Artist Series to be held in the Chapel-auditorium Feb. 20 at 8 p.m.

This group has been called one of the leading chamber units on the scene. In the words of Howard Taubman of the N. Y. Times, one will find it "a rare and rewarding experience."

NEW YORK Pro Musica was was founded in 1952 by Noah Greenberg, its musical director.

This unique ensemble has delighted audiences throughout the country by bringing back to life the gay, romantic and spiritual musical masterpieces of the Renaissance and pre-Renaissance eras.

Students may pick up their tickets for this program next Monday and Tuesday at the ticket booth in the Chapel-auditorium from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., according to Dr. A. W. Swensen, chairman of the Artist Series Committee.

This ensemble made big news last summer while making its first European tour. The company presented performances in London's Westminster Abbey and in the oldest church of Paris, St. Germain des Pres.

COMPOSED OF 11 members, the New York Pro Musica includes in its vocal group two sopranos, a counter tenor (male alto), a tenor, a baritone and a bass.

Also included in the group are four instrumentalists who have mastered such rare instruments as the viola da gamba, the family of five recorders, the cromornes, portative organ and the harpsicord.

This past season the New York Pro Musica has been greatly acclaimed for its performances in New York's Town Hall, the Metropolitan Museum of Art, in the Frick Collection Series and in the Cloisters. The group has also been seen on NBC's "Omnibus."

Old Committee To Be Revived

Student Body President Dick Buchsteiner is attempting to revive the Student-Faculty Council.

This important group has not met for the past several years.

Some of the functions of the council are to preside over the faculty-student committees such as the Student Welfare, to act on all proposed changes of rules of conduct and to be a high court over extracurricular activities.

Action in this last area is especially important. The council gives the final approval of the constitutions of organizations. This means that in a strictly legal sense all constitutions not passed by the council are not fully recognized.

Other topics the group has discussed in the past are women's regulations, student salaries, relationship between Wartburg and Waverly High students, dress and cafeteria procedures.

The problem lies in the fact that there is more than one constitution for the council. The various sources provide for different chairmen and state vague purposes. The reason for calling a meeting is to clear up these discrepancies.

Members are the executive committee of the Senate, dean of the faculty and three faculty members. Action will be taken to reorganize within the next two weeks, according to Buchsteiner.

Study Project Progresses

By Darrell Jobman

Phase four — the curriculum study — of a long-range faculty study is well under way, according to Dr. Edwin Schick, study director.

Dr. Schick, speaking to members of the Senate Monday night, said that he was proposing a committee structure that was to have been considered by the 10 faculty members of the curriculum study committee at a meeting today.

THE FOLLOWING committees and faculty chairmen were proposed by Dr. Schick:

1. Larger Community Relationships (Dr. August Baetke) —This committee will attempt to relate Wartburg to its off-campus constituency, such as the church, alumni, parents and the Waverly community.

2. Curriculum Structure (Dr. James Fritschel)—This is the crucial committee which will study course offerings, according to Dr. Schick.

Reviewing the set-up of one- and two-hour course offerings will be one of the items considered. Dr. Schick said that he felt students would be particularly interested in this committee.

3. NEW TEACHING Methods (Dr. Edwin Sandberg) — The work of this committee will be in the area of honors courses, independent study and new procedures such as teaching by television.

4. Campus Community (Pastor Herman Diers)—This committee will consider dormitory life, continuation of initiation and a study of extracurricular events such as the choir tour.

5. COLLEGE Calendar (Dr. Elmer Hertel)—Organization of the school year and the possibility of setting up a new academic system will be considered by this committee.

Under consideration might be such items as running year round on a trimester or quarter basis, according to Dr. Schick. A 12-week summer school and the possibility of getting a B.A. degree in 2½ years may be other items looked into.

6. Administrative Procedures (Dr. Herbert Max)—This committee would study faculty participation in college government, class attendance and the function of present administrators.

DR. SCHICK emphasized that this was only information and that this committee structure was not official. He said that these were only his proposals and that the final decision would be made at today's meeting.

Committee members in addition to those already named are Dean of Faculty J. O. Chellevold, Pres. C. H. Becker and Dr. Katherine Love of the Language Department. These committee members were chosen because they represented all areas, said Dr. Schick.

THE FIRST THREE phases and chairmen of the long-range faculty study were the faculty handbook, Dr. Gerhard Ottersberg; use of library resources, Miss Erna Moehl; and study of the Wartburg student, Dr. Wilmut Fruehling.

This fourth phase was begun in the spring of 1960 when a committee was set up to study the aims and objectives of Wartburg.

"WE ARE GOING to study Wartburg as thoroughly as we can to come up with a curriculum to meet the aims for the students we have," said Dr. Schick in relating all four phases.

The completion of the study is projected for fall of 1964, and a progress report will be presented to the faculty in April this year.

This is only a study group which can make no definite policy, said Schick, although he said that President Becker has allowed this committee complete freedom of action thus far.

Senate Considers Change In Several Major Areas

Student senators considered a number of items Monday night in addition to hearing a report by Dr. Edwin Schick on the curriculum study.

Most important item considered was the changing of the student body president election procedure. To prevent much unnecessary discussion, the matter was referred to a special committee of seven senators.

THIS COMMITTEE is to come up with a recommendation to present at the Senate meeting Monday night. Present indications are that the preferential system of balloting will be abolished and some type of split ticket installed.

Senior George Whinna was approved as the chairman of the student body project. A vote on a Senate recommendation to put furnishings on the new Union addition will be taken in convo next Tuesday.

Vice President Fred Dierks reported that Wartburg would send a four-man team to Simpson Feb. 19 to compete in a Campus Quiz Bowl similar to the program seen on a national television network. The Wartburg team has not been picked yet.

WARTBURG WILL be allowed to send three delegates to the TALC conference at Dana College, Blair, Neb., Mar. 29-31, according to local coordinator Paul Wilken. Senators discussed ways of picking the delegates but no final decisions were made.

Wilken also brought up a matter to senators which has been before the Educational Policies Committee—whether to allow part-time students with less than 12 hours officially represent the college in extra-curricular activities.

This applies particularly to such areas as musical organizations. Senators discussed the question but did not make a recommendation.

Setting up a public calendar listing all campus meetings was brought up by sophomore Dave Hutson. The matter was referred back to the student section of the faculty-student Student Welfare Committee, from which the suggestion originally came.

On Being A Cat

So you want to be a cat?

It isn't easy, you know. There are some things you must know first.

The most important thing to remember is to always be modern. Abolish all restraints and do just as you please. Remember never to let an inferiority complex (formerly known as conscience) interfere with true pleasure.

There are some pitfalls into which the unwary can easily fall. These must be avoided, since a slip will immediately result in social ostracism.

The first pitfall is becoming too interested in national affairs, international problems, and economic and social issues. These things always mark one as an "out."

A good example of how to remain part of the "in" group was illustrated in the Union about a week ago.

Several "outs" wanted to watch an NBC "White Paper" presentation. They were insistent to the point of being obnoxious and the "ins" grudgingly finally let them watch the program.

However, they behaved as correct "ins" and registered their disapproval with constant noise throughout the program.

Another pitfall is the so-called cultural improvement. It is easy to fall into this trap. All one has to do is attend a symphony concert or some similar event.

The correct behavior for an "in", in this case, would be indifference at the very least. An even better action in this case would be ridicule, to try to convert wayward "outs."

These are only two of the many pitfalls one can fall into. They do, however, point out the guiding principles for all cats to follow.

There are also several important social traits which must be developed in order to be a complete cat and find complete acceptance by the "in" group.

The first of these is complete disregard for the property of other people. The guiding principle, in all cases, must be "Never buy when you can 'borrow.'" This enables the complete cat to get by on the scale which is required of cats without a great outlay of income.

A second is the ability to consume large enough quantities of alcohol to reduce one to stumbling idiocy or, in some cases, total senselessness. It is definitely "out" to be only a moderate social drinker. You are then a party pooper.

These are only two of the principles which the complete cat needs to develop. They, as well as those mentioned previously, point in the correct direction for the formation of more principles.

Do you still want to be a cat? Really?

Hints To Shoppers Given In Primer's Newest Form

The crowd is full of people. Some of them are fat. Some of them are thin. Some of them are happy. Some of them are Democrats. Most of them as a matter of fact (this is the city, remember?). Some of them are wearing wigs. Only their hairdressers know for sure.

The people are impatient. That means they just can't wait. Have you ever tried to wait? Sometimes you just can't.

See the big department store. It is full of toys and games. It is full of pets and bicycles. It is also full of things grown-ups like. Like remote-control music boxes. And oriental lamp shades. But they didn't sell so well this year. No wonder.

See the signs and posters. Some of them say "clearance." Some of them say "sale." Some of them say "simply charge it." Some of them say "Ladies Room."

The people are going to the sale. They will all save lots of money. That is the genius of capitalism. None of them have any money to begin with. Soon they will have even less.

Reaction To SEW Mixed

By Elaine Melchert

A communion service Tuesday evening with about four hundred and sixty participants ended another Spiritual Emphasis Week.

Opening on a high note, students were led into the week's activities, with the theme "Bound to Be Free," on the artistic and dramatic note with ample opportunities for questioning.

James Crane's discussion on Wednesday evening of the last week and his convocation presentation opened issues which often prey on student's minds but only come into focus when they are directly presented.

Art captured the scene and the attention of many students during parts of the week. The addition of the color and design, especially emphasized in the setting at the communion service, provided variation and symbolism.

Drama, in the form of "Five Finger Exercise," capitalized on the inherent struggle for freedom, facing reality and facing the self.

This was all intended to build toward the entrance of the Rev. L. David Brown to the scene. The build-up that Brown was to have climaxed did not seem to reach the peak that was expected.

The search was on, the fight, the struggle for freedom—but the end was never reached. The week worked up to its natural ending without really reaching it.

While Brown was generally adequate in his presentations and brought out many good points and ideas, he lacked the ability to drive one central thought home. His addresses tended to leave questions, and perhaps this was his intent, but questions seem to need answers, too.

The challenges that Brown created for the student body were in themselves good. College life is one of the most susceptible places for challenges to be met—when one is faced with decisions to make at almost every waking moment.

While parts of the week appealed to parts of the student body, the total effect did not seem to strengthen one's spiritual values or settle any spiritual questions or solve any spiritual problems or create any particular spiritual emphasis.

Knights Challenge Dubuque

Next weekend the Knights will be on the road with games at Dubuque and Upper Iowa.

Although Dubuque is currently 4-6 in conference play, the Spartans cannot be underestimated. Last Friday they tripped a tough Upper Iowa team, 64-63.

At present Upper Iowa is one of the front running teams, along with Parsons and Central, in the Iowa Conference.

THE KNIGHTS took it on the chin last night at the hands of the Parsons Wildcats by an 87-77 score.

Parsons' margin of victory came in the first half. They connected on 52 per cent of their shots from the floor to build up a 14-point halftime lead, 53-39.

A tighter Knight defense held the Wildcats to a 31 per cent mark in the second half. The offensive game, meanwhile, outscored Parsons by four. The deficit, however, proved too much to make up.

HIGH POINT MAN for the victors was Claude Erwin, who poured 28 points through the hoop. In addition to this he was the most consistent rebounder on either team.

Erwin was followed by John Matthews with 21 and Roger Sherrard with 16.

High for the Knights was Gary Medlang with 17. He was followed by Dick Ridout with 14, Al Buenning with 12, and Dave Lange with 10.

TONIGHT THE Knights host Iowa Wesleyan. The Tigers are presently in ninth place in the conference. They cannot be underrated, however, because one of their victories was over fourth-ranking Simpson.

Last weekend the Knights split a pair of road games. Friday night they lost to Central, 68-54, but came back on Saturday to down William Penn by the score of 82-74.

INCONSISTENT PLAY, following a two-week lay-off for semester exams, hurt Wartburg's chances against Central. The game was close until the closing minutes of the first half.

Then the Knights hit a cold spell and scored only two points in the next five minutes.

Behind 35-29 at half time, the Knights came out and immediately narrowed the gap. However, cold shooting again prevailed and Central won.

Saturday night the sharpshooting of guard Dick Ridout, who scored 32 points, paced the Knights in a hard-fought game.

TWO MEN FROM each team, Al Buenning and Dave Lange from Wartburg, fouled out. Penn's hopes for a victory were dimmed when Ten Burson fouled out with 19 points midway through the second half.

Leading scorers for the Knights were Ridout and Brunscheen and Medlang with 11 points each. Lange, Shudlick and Sathoff each contributed 6 while Buenning had 8.

Only Four IM Games This Week

Four basketball games were played and four were postponed in this week's round of intramural basketball in which action was seen only in the National League.

Jim Folkerts and Jerry Shinkay combined for a 51-point total to lead Clinton Basement in a 113-71 victory over Grossmann II in Thursday evening's action. Clinton I defeated Off Campus III 61-53 to hold a tie for first place with the Married Men, who also won their game, 70-33, over Grossmann I.

Vollmer defeated Off Campus I 69-61 in a close game to complete the week's play.

In action last week the combined Off Campus III and Grossmann III team downed Clinton Basement, 56-47, and Grossmann IIA kept the winning team in the dorm by defeating Off Campus I, 65-45.

After a forfeit by Grossmann I to Ketha, Clinton I completed play by running over the Married Men 65-59 to hand that team its first loss of the season.

The American League will be back in action next week to begin the last half of the intramural season.

Matmen Go To Decorah

Wartburg's matmen journey to Decorah this afternoon to participate in the nine-team Lutheran Tourney.

Competing schools will include Luther, St. Olaf, Concordia, Dana and Augustana of Rock Island, among others.

FOLLOWING TODAY'S meet, the wrestlers will return to a week of practice in preparation for a pair of meets next weekend. Next Friday the Knights will host Winona State College, Winona, Minn. On Saturday the matmen will return to Decorah with Luther providing the opposition.

Luther is defending conference champion. Last season Wartburg defeated the Norsemen in dual meet competition but finished second to Luther in the conference meet.

ON FEB. 6 Simpson downed the Knights 20-16. Bernie Masker and Duane Huth both pinned their men, Masker's pin coming after only 44 seconds were gone in the 157-pound match. Tim Tower won his match, 5-1, and Cal Brown won, 12-1.

Last Saturday the Knight matmen hosted St. Cloud State and were overpowered, 29-6. Jim Mueller, 137 pounds, and Tim Tower, 147, were Wartburg's only winners.

Cindermen Open Season 2 Indoor Meets Ahead

By Doug Goke

Wartburg's track team is now working out under head coach Dave Olson. Squad members are preparing for the 1963 season, which opens for the cindermen on Saturday, Feb. 23. They will take part in a triangular meet with Iowa Wesleyan and State College of Iowa at the SCI indoor track.

There are 10 returning lettermen this year. They are led by Lothar Columbus, second in total scoring last year for the Knights. Columbus, who was the top runner for the cross-country team last fall, competes in the mile and two-mile run.

Other returning lettermen include Joel Niemann, who runs the high hurdles and also high jumps. He was fourth in total scoring for the Knights last year.

Distance runners Roger Palmer and Russel Leitz along with Columbus make the strongest combination that the Knights have in any event. Coach Olson commented that he expects to see some records broken in the distance events this year.

Another event that might see a record broken is the high jump, where Len Schmidt and Jerry Schara, along with Niemann, try to up the present record of 6' 2" held by Carl Anderson since 1957.

• • • •

Other returning lettermen are Jim Reents, 880; Bill Riggle, 440; Ted Johnson, broad jump and sprints; and Harold Shudlick, middle distances.

There are 15 other candidates now working out with the team. They are mostly underclassmen who have had very little college experience. They include freshmen Mike Peich and Wayne Burress, both in the shot put, and freshman Merrill Kalkwarf in the discus. Juniors Gary Leeper and Bob Wachholz throw the javelin and freshmen Bill Weiblen and Jerry Zehr run the sprints.

Other candidates are sophomore Gerald Baldner, 880; freshman Tim Nelson, high jump; freshmen Jim Fliehler, Tom Schuab and Verlin Behm in the pole vault; and freshmen Jim Rasmuson and Behm in the long distances.

• • • •

Coach Olson commented that if these underclassmen can come up and fill the gaps left by the seniors of last year and if the present lettermen continue to improve, this could be one of the most successful track years Wartburg has seen for a long time.

The schedule this year is one of the most ambitious ever for the cindermen as they participate in 11 meets away from home and seven at home.

Included in these are the Drake Relays at Des Moines, the Cornell Relays at Mt. Vernon and the NCAA small college regional meet at Cedar Falls.

Wartburg competes in two indoor meets. Olson noted that the value in these two meets lies in the experience to be gained. They also lay the foundation which the first two outdoor meets would otherwise do.

WARTBURG GRAPPLER JIM Mueller struggles to pin his opponent as the referee bends close to inspect. Jim missed the pin but won the match.

Trueblood Picked Speaker For June Commencement

Speaker for the 1963 Wartburg College commencement is Dr. D. Elton Trueblood, according to Pres. C. H. Becker. He will speak on the topic "The Agony of Decision."

Dr. Trueblood is an internationally known religious philosopher, who is perhaps best known for his book "The Company of the Committed." This book is presently celebrating its 25th year of publication.

A NATIVE OF Pleasantville, he earned his B.A. at Penn College, an S.T.B. from Harvard University and his Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University.

He has also received seven honorary degrees from different institutions. In addition to "Company of the Committed," he has written 19 other books. He has been and is an active member of the Society of Friends.

DR. TRUEBLOOD was awarded the Outstanding Christian Service Award by the Church Federation of Greater Chicago in 1952. He was named Churchman of the Year in 1960 by American Heritage.

Dr. Trueblood has held professorships all over the world. He has also been editor of "The Friend," chief of religious information for the U. S. Information Agency and an adviser to Voice of America.

Presently he is a professor of philosophy at Earlham College, Richmond, Ind.

Dr. Becker To Address Convo Tues.

Convocations for next week will include an address by Pres. C. H. Becker and an open forum centered around his address.

Tuesday Pres. Becker will give his State of the College address entitled "Isolation/Involvement: Wartburg College."

He will speak about involvement of students in all areas of student life. It will involve the faculty and staff in the life and welfare of the students.

Also included will be the involvement of Wartburg College as an academic community in the affairs of the Waverly community, the church and the larger academic community.

Thursday an open forum will be conducted under the auspices of the Student Welfare Committee.

It will include a panel of both students and faculty members. They will discuss the high lights of Dr. Becker's previous message.

Cast Announced For Next Drama

Cast members for the next Wartburg College theatre production to be given March 7, 8 and 9 in the Chapel-auditorium have been announced by John Gill, drama director.

The play, "Night Must Fall," is a chilling murder mystery by Emlyn Williams calculated to keep the audience in a spine-tingling state of apprehension and dreadful expectation of impending horror.

Those who enjoy this type of entertainment will not be disappointed. Those who don't should come anyway to witness what promises to be one of the most enjoyable, unenjoyable experiences of their short, cautious lives, according to Gill.

Wartburg Gets Gift

Wartburg College was among 31 colleges and universities receiving individual gifts from Maytag employees this past year through the Educational Gift-Matching plan of the Maytag Company Foundation, Inc.

Nearly $33,000 in matched gifts has been shared by various colleges in the four years the foundation's gift-matching plan has been in effect.

Organ Recitals Are Tomorrow

Two music recitals will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 p.m. in the Fine Arts Center.

Miss Kay Knopf, senior, and Miss Karen Schardt, junior, will both perform on the organ.

Miss Knopf will begin with "Prelude in C" by Bach. Other numbers include "Meditation on a Rose Window," Hovdesven; "Rondo," Boellman; and "Carillon," Vierne.

"Rondeau," by J. Francois d'Andrieu will be the first piece played by Miss Schardt. Other numbers include "Prelude and Fugue in F Sharp Minor," Buxtehude; "Wir glauben all' en einen Gott, Schoepfer," Bach; and "Chorale in A Minor," Cesar Franck.

Open Forum Set Thurs.

Thursday's convocation will feature an open forum discussion on several aspects of student life. A panel of students and faculty members will be moderated by the Rev. Robert Gremmels, alumni director.

Five topics under consideration are initiation, social life, academic life, extracurricular activities and financial responsibility. Tuesday's convocation address by President C. H. Becker will also be discussed, and a questionnaire on initiation will be handed out.

According to sophomore Dave Hutson, Student Welfare chairman, the main question is "Does Wartburg College fulfill its obligation to involve the student?"

After the panel discussion, questions will be received from the floor. Students are asked to bring up any questions on the topics mentioned previously.

Panel members will consist of Dr. Edwin Schick, Department of Religion; the Rev. Merritt Bomhoff, assistant to the president; Dean Earnest Oppermann; Jim Steinbrecher and Paul Wilken, juniors; and Fred Dierks, senior.

Enrollment Down

Enrollment at Wartburg is down slightly from last semester, according to Registrar Mattie Harms. Students now classified as full-time number 990 as compared to 1,068 for the fall semester.

Also registered are 28 new students and 68 part-time students. Twenty students completed graduation requirements at the end of the last semester.

Sandberg To Lecture

Dr. E. T. Sandberg, chairman of the English Department, will lecture on Emile Zola on Tuesday, Feb. 12, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 105, Luther Hall.

Zola's contribution to the art of naturalism in the novel will be discussed, with particular reference to his novel, "Germinal."

Coffee and cookies will be served following the lecture, according to Sandberg.

Fund Total Sees Boost

The Alumni Fund, under the direction of the Rev. Robert Gremmels, alumni director, raised a total of $164,549.56 from Jan. 1 to Dec. 31 of last year.

Contributions can be categorized as follows: alumni gifts to Alumni Fund, $13,064.81; alumni to Development Fund, $16,011.61; foundation and corporation support, $27,645.47; ALC to Development Fund, $8,064.00.

Individual congregation support was $29,559.99 and contributions from friends of the college, $70,203.68.

Alumni contributions made the largest gain with nearly $5,000 more in 1962 than the year before. Thirty-eight per cent of the alumni participated in the fund drive compared with the previous year's 28 per cent.

These gains are the results of the all-alumni canvass and a decline in alumni numbers from around 5,000 to 3,400. The decline is attributed to the omission of alumni of colleges that have been affiliated with Wartburg.

Azbell Gets Post

William Azbell, Physics Department, has been appointed to the nominating committee of the Iowa Academy of Science. The appointment was made by President G. Chester Leu of Central College.

The committee is to provide nominees for president, vice president, secretary-treasurer, editor and members of the Board of Directors.

Azbell has been a member of the Academy for the last ten years and during 1960 he served as chairman of the Physics section.

The annual Academy meeting will be held at Iowa State University, Ames, April 19-20.

New Station Wagon Purchased By College

A new station wagon has been purchased by the college, Walter Fredrick, business manager, announced Thursday.

The new wagon is a 1963 nine-passenger Chevrolet. It is solid white with a red interior. It is equipped with a radio, heater, automatic transmission, power brakes and seat belts.

Local dealers were asked to submit bids on the proposed purchase, Frederick said. Vriezelaar Chevrolet of Waverly submitted the lowest bid.

The 1957 Ford wagon, which the college is currently using, will be retained for use around campus and for short trips. The new vehicle will be available for longer trips, such as attending conferences.

Contest Seeks Entrants

Students in Iowa colleges and citizens of the state may submit poetry entries for the Iowa Poetry Association's annual contest before the February 15 deadline.

Poems must be original, previously unpublished and consist of twenty lines or less. A maximum of five poems may be submitted by one person.

Cash prizes will be awarded for the best poems. All poems will be considered for publication in "Lyrical Iowa," a booklet published by the I.P.A.

A special award will be given for the best Nature poem written by an adult.

Harlan Miller gives an award for light verse, some of which he publishes in his "Over the Coffee" column in the Des Moines Register. These poems are in addition to the other five that may be submitted and must be from four to six lines long, with twenty-eight or fewer spaces per line.

Entrant's name. address, grade, school and English professor's name must be included on the entries. For the return of unused poems and the announcement of the contest results, an entrant should enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope with the entries.

College entries are to be sent to Robert Jacobs, Iowa Wesleyan College, Mt. Pleasant. Adult poems are to be sent to Ruth DeLong, New London.

One-Act Drama Set For Feb. 26 Convo

Convocation on Tuesday, Feb. 26, will feature the powerful, thought-provoking one-act play, "Cain," by Howard Nemerov. Written in modern free verse, the drama deals with the events leading up to the murder of Abel.

Although the story is based on the Biblical version as found in Genesis, emphasis is placed on the feelings and attitudes of the various characters.

Dave Hutson, sophomore, who recently gave a memorable performance in "Five Finger Exercise," will be featured in the title role. Senior Kay Knopf, who also appeared in "Five Finger Exercise," will play Eve. Abel will be portrayed by Dennis Brown, a freshman.

John Gill, drama director, will make a rare appearance on the Wartburg stage as Adam, and John Ness of the Speech Department will be heard as the Voice of God.

It should be stated that this play will be much more than mere entertainment. Convo-goers may expect to be confronted with some of the basic issues of man's personal relationship with his creator and with his fellow man as well as the many doubts and conflicts within himself, according to Gill.

Dance To Be This Friday

Ken Schneider and his "Knightbeats" will provide the music and entertainment for the Valentine Dance to be held next Friday in the Little Theater.

The dance, which will be sponsored by Grossmann Hall, is semi-formal. Time for the dance is 8 p.m.

Decorations chairman for the event is sophomore Larry Peterson. Kurt Marshek, sophomore, is in charge of publicity.

Admission is 75 cents for couples and 50 cents for stag. No advance tickets are to be sold. They may be purchased at the door.

KWAR Presents Series Featuring Class Lectures

For the first time in the history of Wartburg and KWAR class lectures are being broadcast.

Since the second semester began, taped lectures of the Rev. Neil Eckstein, English Department, for the Major American Writers course have been broadcast.

The class meets Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 9 a.m. for two lectures and one discussion. Lectures are broadcast Monday and Wednesday at 10 a.m.

The non-credit broadcasts were initiated because they are a proper function of an educational institution and because they may benefit all who might be interested.

Terry Havel, program director of KWAR, says response to the broadcasts has been good and they may be given for credit in the future.
